

1997

David Toms shook off a 90-minute rain delay en route to a final round 65 and a three-shot win over a trio of runners-up. Toms became the Q-C tournament's 12th first-time winner, but the first since Curt Byrum in 1989. The seven-year stretch of non-first-timers also coincided with seven years of September Q-C tournaments. The 1997 tournament was the first of two played the week prior to the British Open.
